Course Description

In this Ferenczi concentration, we will explore his seminal article, 'Confusion of Tongues Between Adults and the Child: The Language of Tenderness and Passion', and excerpts from the Clinical Diaries. We will relate these works to contemporary perspectives on trauma, drawing from authors such as Clara Mucci, Paul Russell, Philip Bromberg, Raluca Soreanu, among others. Through these texts, we will look at the impacts of trauma on our sense of coherence, and sense of self. Though it is not a prerequisite, this seminar is geared towards clinical work and is strongly encouraged for those who have started working with clients.
